

NOVEMBER 2015 NEWSLETTER

We have almost made it through another year! By now everyone has been tricked or treated, is in full swing for hunting season, and making family plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas. It is a great time of year to introduce those younger than us to shooting and hunting and pass on memories of seasons past. Young ears and minds are sponges for information. Make sure you pass it to them responsibly.

The slightly unpopular plan to modernize and update both our membership roster, range accessibility, and financial records has been, to date, a tremendous success from the club's standpoint. At this time we have the grasp of the important things – finances, security, and membership – that our membership deserves. The rules are in place to maintain this and it should remain so.

The October Bowling Pin match and Golf Ball shoot were both great successes. We had as many competitors at the last pin match of the season as we did at the very first. In addition, we welcomed a couple of new shooters – one a young lady who did very well – which is always a good sign. The match was won by young gun Curt Bost. Curt has come a long way and shows signs of being a winner for as long as he cares to compete. Second place was won by perennial favorite Mike Goss with Jay Phillips rounding out the trio of winners. Thanks to all that attended, all that volunteered their assistance in making the match run smoothly, and to all the repeat offenders. It was another great season! We plan on resuming next April and the schedule will be distributed to members prior to that.

The 200 yard rimfire rifle Golf Ball Match was held on October 25. Our attendance for these events seems to hold steady at seven or eight shooters and this was no exception. Seven shooters with varied types of equipment showed up to challenge one another and the wind for bragging rights. Rifles ran the gamut from Kidd, Volquartsen, Clark, Cooper, and Savage to Remington. For the second match in a row, bolt actions stepped to the forefront with two Remington 40X's driven by Scott Watson (last month's winner) and Tim Courtney tying for the win. We have tentatively scheduled the next event for November 15, 2015 at 2 PM, weather permitting. We will continue to schedule the golf ball shoots through the winter on a month by month basis as long as there is a demand. If you own a .22 rifle, give it a try. If you want to try and don't have the equipment, just show up. We – and I use this collectively for the regular shooters – have equipment, ammo, and advice. All you need is the entry fee (Don't have that? No problem.) and to show up. I think I speak for all concerned when I say that you will be welcomed.

Surely – surely – the GOP can come up with one – just one – candidate to challenge and defeat The Wicked Witch of the East! I cannot believe that any one such self-absorbed, egotistical, borderline sociopath can sit in front of a national audience, giving replies to questions that obviously indicate she cares more about her next manicure than she does the truth. She has no feelings whatsoever for the veterans or others affected by her actions – or lack thereof. A defeat in this Presidential bid would hopefully drive a stake through the heart of the Clinton machine once and for all.

Stabimus contra malum.

We will stand against evil.

See you at the range!
